1.	Title of the course	Basic Course in German
2.	Course number	HS102N
3.	Structure of credits	2-0-0-2
4.	Offered to	UG
5.	New course/modification to	Modification To HS1103/6
6.	To be offered by	Department of Humanities and Social Sciences
7.	To take effect from	July 2022
8.	Prerequisite	Nil
9.	Course Objective(s): The course is designed to introduce the basic German grammar and vocabulary to the students to enable them learn how to write and read; enable them to make simple inquiries in German, and comprehend the videos and audios (native source). Also, the course aims to teach them how to express themselves in everyday situations.
10.	Course Content: Introduction to the script; Four skills of language learning (Listening (Hoeren), Speaking (Sprechen), Reading (Lesen), and Writing (Schreiben); present day German culture covering the living patterns, social structure, and value systems of three German speaking countries
11.	Textbook(s): 1. Dengler S, Netzwerk A1: Deutsch als Fremdsprache (Vol. 1-4), Klett, Goyal Publishers & Distributors (2015). 2. Funk H, Studio d A1: Deutsch als Fremdsprache (Vol. 1-4), Cornelson, Goyal Publishers & Distributors (2011).
12.	Reference(s): 1. Zorach C, English Grammar for the Students of German: The Study Guide for Learning German (O&H Study Guides), 5th Edition, Olivia & Hill Press (2009). 2. Elke G, Schaum L, Outline of German Grammar, Cambridge (2018).	